

Peter Boseong Yun

 Website |  boseong.yun@yale.edu |  Google Scholar | Last updated: September 10, 2026

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Labor Market; Work and Organizations; Gender; Science and Technology; Quantitative Methods

EDUCATION

- 2022- Yale University — Ph.D. in Sociology (expected 2028)
- 2025 Yale University — M.A. in Statistics & Data Science
- 2021 University of Chicago — M.P.P. in Public Policy (with Honors; merit scholarship)
- 2015 University of Michigan — B.A. in Political Science & Women's Studies (with Distinction)

PUBLICATIONS

- [1] Drishti Baid, Boseong Yun, and Emma Zang, "Explaining the higher COVID-19 mortality rates among disproportionately Black counties: A decomposition analysis," SSM - Population Health, vol. 22, p. 101360, Jun. 2023, ISSN: 2352-8273.

WORK IN PROGRESS

Under Review

- [1] STEM Switchers: Unraveling Gendered Labor Market Dynamics in Non-STEM to STEM Transitions
- [2] Science in Disguise? Scientific Authorization and the Value of Computational Work
- [3] The Computationalization of Expertise: Computational Work and the Stratification of Expert Labor
- [4] Software Systems as Occupational Structure and Stratification

Working

- [1] The Price and Instability of Accountability: Doing Gender and Doing Inequality (Draft Available)
- [2] Technology and Work (with Rourke O'Brien and Daniel Schneider)
- [3] Technology and Occupations (early stage)
- [4] AI and Evaluations (early stage)

TEACHING ASSISTANT EXPERIENCES

Yale University

2024 - present

- SOCY 5670 AI for Social Science Methods
- SOCY 3741 Poverty and Social Welfare in the United States
- STAT 5000 Introductory Statistics
- SOCY 1440 Race, Ethnicity, and Immigration

University of Chicago

2020 - 2021

- PPHA 32300 Microeconomics I
- PPHA 32400 Microeconomics II
- PPHA 34600 Program Evaluation
- PPHA 46610 Workplace and Family Policy

RESEARCH GRANTS AND FELLOWSHIPS

Yale FLAGS Research Fund ($4200)	2026
Yale ISPS Graduate Policy Fellowship ($5500)	2025–2026
Yale MacMillan Pre-Dissertation Research Fellowship ($3300)	2024

CONFERENCE AND PRESENTATION

2026 RC28 Summer Meeting, New York, NY	Oral Presentation (In-Session)
2025 ASA Annual Meeting, Chicago, IL	Oral Presentation (Labor Market Session)

SELECTED GRADUATE METHODOLOGICAL TRAINING

Yale University	2022 - present
Ph.D. Econometrics Sequence I, II, III (audited III); Stochastic Processes; Causal Inference; Linear Models; Machine Learning; Analysis (Math); Linear Algebra (Math)
University of Chicago	2019 - 2021
Computational Social Science Sequence I, II, III; Machine Learning; Program Evaluation; Inequality and Methods; Statistics; Microeconomics

SKILLS

Languages R (Main), Python, Stata, L^AT_EX

OTHERS

Graduate Student Coordinator, QRM Workshop at Yale ISPS	2023–2024
Graduate Research Assistant, (Dan Black , University of Chicago)	2021–2022
Graduate Tutor, Economics, Statistics, and R at University of Chicago	2020-2021
Applied Data Fellow, The University of Chicago Applied Data Fellow at Braven	2021–2022
Sergeant, Korean Augmentation to the United States Army (KATUSA)	2016–2017
Participant, the Arabella Chapman Project by Martha S. Jones	2015
Certified Volunteer, Sexual Assault Prevention and Awareness Center	2014